HEARING ON REZONE PLEA SET APRIL 13

Ministerial Head To Get Transfer

Rev. James Recob, Calvary EUB, Going To New Columbus Church

With glowing praise for "Circleville... a grand community in which to live and work," the Rev. James B. Recob was preparing today to yield his duties here as pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The Rev. Mr. Recob has been officially notified that he will be transferred, effective April 8, to the Oakland Park EUB Church in Columbus, a new and large congregation in the extreme northern section of that city. The Columbus congregation, with an estimated membership between 250 and 300, has its church on Oakland Park Ave.

The Rev. Mr. Recob said he is under the impression the Oakland Park congregation was established only about four years ago.

The Calvary EUB pastorate here will be turned over to the Rev. Dale Rough. He has been studying at the United Theological Seminary in Dayton and will come to Circleville on full-time assignment. The Rev. Mr. Recob, a graduate of the same seminary, came here in August of 1953.

SINCE THAT time he has taken an increasingly active role in community affairs and now serves as head of the Pickaway County Ministerial Association. He and his wife, Betty, have one child. Formal announcement of the change in pastors here will be made by Dale Delong, lay representative of Calvary EUB Church, which is located at S. Washington and Mill streets.

The Rev. Mr. Recob received his own official notification from the Rev. D. S. Mills, EUB conference superintendent.

The Calvary EUB pastor will be returning to his hometown in Columbus. Mrs. Recob was also originally a resident of that city. The minister's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Recob, live in the Hilltop district of Columbus at 295 Nashoba Ave.

Looking forward to the coming change with mixed feelings, the Rev. Mr. Recob issued a statement as follows:

"While I appreciate the opportunity for an enlarged ministry which my new assignment in Columbus will offer to me, I shall be sorry to leave Circleville and Calvary Church. I have learned to love and appreciate the people of my congregation very much. They are the salt of the earth."

"MOREOVER, I have come to hold in high regard all of the people of Circleville. This is a grand community in which to live and work."

"I shall leave Circleville with the uneasy feeling that comes from knowing that I shall leave unfinished several projects which I have had a part in starting."

In particular I regret that I shall not be able to do any further work on behalf of the YMCA idea which has found fertile soil in Circleville.

"I wish to say 'thank you' to all my many friends and co-workers in the church and city for every boost that has been given me along the way during the past three years."

"My interest and my prayers shall continue to be with the good people of Circleville who have made my short stay here so very pleasant."

Kefauver Says GOP's 'Peace' Is Uneasy One

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—

"Peace and prosperity is the theme of the Republican campaign this year," Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said here last night, "but the peace is uneasy and so is the prosperity."

The senator, bolstered by his unexpected Minnesota primary victory, moved westward today to start an intensive campaign for California's 68 votes at the Democratic National Convention.

Enroute, he paused in Portland where he authorized his supporters to undertake a write-in campaign in the Oregon Democratic presidential primary May 18.

"If they wish to undertake such a campaign, it will be all right with me and I will appreciate it," he reported.

No Democrat is entered in the Oregon primary. The state's 16 convention delegates will be required to support the candidate getting the largest number of write-in votes.

He referred in his Great Falls speech to a Lincoln Day talk by Vice President Nixon who, Kefauver said, "bragged about the Republicans providing the biggest tax cut in history."

"They did it," he told a Democratic dinner, "but let me point out that without the tax cut we could have had a balanced budget every year of the Eisenhower administration. We could have made a substantial reduction in the national debt and we could have had an air force superior to any."

Kefauver also charged the Eisenhower administration "obviously does not believe in the possibility of peace. It has utterly failed to prepare for it."

Dems To Demand Higher Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex.) said this afternoon that Democrats in Congress will insist upon high level price supports in the farm bill despite hints of a veto by President Eisenhower.

Johnson predicted, after talking with House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), that a Senate-House conference group, named to adjust differences on farm legislation, will recommend high level supports.

Thus it appears that the Democrats, already making the drop in farm prices a major election year issue, are ready to force a showdown with the White House in the matter.

On the House side, Rep. Cooley (D-N.C.) said a compromise farm bill may be ready for final action shortly after Congress returns from its Easter recess April 9.

Cooley, as chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, will head House conferees who will meet with representatives of the Senate in an effort to compromise vastly different farm bills.

In a broad hint that he might veto a measure which resembled that passed by the Senate, President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday it is unworkable and not a good bill.

The administration opposed the only two major provisions of the bill the House passed last year, a return to rigid price supports on five basic crops and a hike in supports for dairy products.

Provisions of the Senate measure include a similar boost in dairy price supports, two-price support programs for rice, surplus set-asides and other proposals the administration opposed.

THE HOUSE voted 215-195 yesterday to reject the recommendation of Cooley's committee and approved a Senate bill calling for a two-year, $160 million school milk program.

Meanwhile, the debate raged over the causes behind Sen. Estes Kefauver's smashing victory in Minnesota's Democratic primary election. Democrats contended the tally was a "reputation" by Republican voters of the Eisenhower administration's farm program.

A number of Republicans sharply rejected that suggestion, although some of them acknowledged they are concerned over the effect on voters of the long decline in farm income.

Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.), former secretary of agriculture who has backed major portions of the Eisenhower farm program, said: "The Minnesota vote, with thousands of Republicans entering the Democratic primary, indicates the Democrats will carry every state in the farm belt, regardless of who is the nominee."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), who joined with Minnesota's Democratic Gov. Orville Freeman to support the defeated Adlai Stevenson, noted that both Stevenson and Kefauver advocated farm price supports at higher levels than the administration does.

He said the heavy vote in the Democratic primary was a "stunning repudiation of the Eisenhower-Benson farm fiasco." Ezra Benson is secretary of agriculture.

SEN. AIKEN (R-Vt.), chief Senate backer of the administration's flexible price support program, retorted that "the Minnesota vote indicated an uprising against a group, rather than the farm program."

Sen. Thye (R-Minn.), who fought alongside the Democrats for a farm bill carrying price supports higher than Eisenhower wanted, said a presidential veto of that measure "would have disastrous results" for the GOP cause.

Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), another supporter of rigid price supports, said the vote did not reflect any criticism of the Eisenhower administration. But he said "the farm vote is restless today, adding that 'it will require improved economic conditions in the country districts to keep the vote in the GOP columns.'"

Ohio Voters May Determine Whether GOP Or Democrats Control Next U. S. Senate

By JACK BELL

AP Political Analyst
COLUMBUS (AP)—The ingredients are being assembled in Ohio today for a free-wheeling political battle that may determine control of the Senate in the next Congress.

The average voter here is inclined to accept forecasts that President Eisenhower will sweep Ohio again next fall as he did in 1952. Candidates for governor will be chosen in the primaries.

But all Ohio knows that Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Republican Sen. George H. Bender are set to throw the political book at each other in the senatorial race.

Lausche, a political leader who ignores both labor leaders and political chieftains, is trying out in a new league after five two-year terms as governor—a record in Ohio. He won his fourth term in 1952 by a margin of 425,000 votes while Eisenhower was rolling to a 500,000 majority in the state.

Bender beat Democratic Sen. Thomas A. Burke, a Lausche appointee, by only 2,900 votes in 1954 to round out the last two years of the late Sen. Taft's term.

Cold statistics fail to take into account the cross-currents of Ohio politics which may find Democratic Representatives Michael J. Kirwan, chairman of the party's congressional campaign committee, and Wayne Hays, 18th District congressman, rolling stumbling blocks in Lausche's path.

'Marty' Wins Top Oscar In Movie Capital

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Marty," the movie about a homely butcher and a wallflower schoolteacher, emerged today as the Oscar-winning picture.

It also won the top male acting Academy Award last night for Ernest Borgnine, an actor who only earned $2,300 in his profession three years ago. He is worth at least $150,000 a picture with Oscar behind him.

Anna Magnani, the fiery Italian, now in Rome, won the top feminine Oscar for her performance in "The Rose Tattoo."

The supporting actor award went to Jack Lemmon, the comic Ens. Pulver of "Mister Roberts." Jo Van Fleet, the madam mother of James Dean in "East of Eden," was named the best supporting actress.

"Marty" also won an Oscar for the best screen play for playwright Paddy Chayefsky.

Delbert Mann, who directed "Marty" on TV and then for his movie debut, won the best direction award.

"Marty" was produced by the team of Harold Hecht and screen star Burt Lancaster.

Lancaster gave much of the credit for "Marty's" success to newspaper advertising. He said the film cost only $343,000 to make but that half a million dollars was spent on an advertising campaign, much of it in newspapers seen by Academy voters.

British Hold Nose As 'Ivan' Arrives

LONDON (AP)—Ivan A. Serov, the Soviet police chief, flew into London today to double check security plans for the Khrushchev-Bulgarian visit.

The British press has dubbed Serov "Ivan the Terrible." He has been pictured as responsible for mass murders and deportations throughout Eastern Europe in World War II.

"Serov the thug is here today!" blazoned the Daily Mail.

The liberal Manchester Guardian termed the tight-lipped policeman "the odious General Ivan."

10 Minutes Taken To Convict Chief

BANNING, Calif. (AP)—Police Chief Robert Morton of Cabazon asked for a jury trial when the California highway patrol cited him for possessing a red spotlight on his personal car.

The jury heard testimony for two days but required only 10 minutes Wednesday to convict him. He will be sentenced today.

Lausche has Democratic enemies in Cleveland. He can expect little aid from union leaders. He has lost to Bender some of the financial support he always had from Republican industrialists in his campaigns for governor.

On the other hand, Bender faces a psychological disadvantage born

U. S. Proposing 'Pilot' Test Of Arms Controls

Up To 60,000 Square Miles In U. S., Soviet Would Face Inspection

LONDON (AP)—Seeking to replace years of talk about disarmament with concrete action, the United States wants 40,000 to 60,000 square miles of Russian and American territory opened to international arms inspection teams.

The U. S. proposal for a preliminary test of disarmament controls was made last night at a meeting of the five-power U.N. subcommittee on disarmament, between the top military powers.

It is aimed at paving the way to a comprehensive program of controlled arms reduction. Britain and France earlier this week submitted an arms control plan linked to general disarmament.

Subcommittee delegates referred the American plan to their governments. It may not be taken up again here for a week.

The U. S. proposal came a few hours before officials here and in Washington disclosed that the Soviet Union has launched a new series of nuclear tests. There were no details as to what type tests were carried out, but presumably they were held in Siberia.

INFORMATION presumably was obtained through checks of radioactive material in the atmosphere. Western observatories in northern Japan recorded increased radioactivity in rain and snow which fell this week.

Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, said in Washington the Russians had exploded a nuclear device "within the past few days."

He said it was the fifth Soviet weapons test announced by the U. S. in the last eight months.

Emergency Alimony Plan Is Set Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Cuyahoga County common pleas judge has announced a new "rule of court" that grants a woman emergency alimony and support payments for children immediately after she files for divorce.

Judge William K. Thomas said the rule was approved by his colleagues on the bench here.

He said the rule is designed to eliminate hardship and to prevent accumulation of arrearage in alimony and support payments. The old system permitted the wife to apply for temporary alimony and support, but the order granting it usually came months later.

50 Now Attending Special CD School

COLUMBUS (AP)—More than 50 students are attending the fifth Ohio Civil Defense Administration School at Ohio State.

Maj. Gen. Leo M. Kreber, Ohio Director of civil defense, says the school enables key civil defense officials to more effectively organize and direct CD programs in their communities.

After 20 Years Church Gets Pastor

CINCINNATI (AP)—After two decades without a fulltime pastor, members of Pilgrim Presbyterian Church here have agreed to install Thomas W. Sizer as permanent pastor.

Sizer, who attended the church as a boy, will be ordained and installed next Friday. The church has had services with guest pastors for the last 20 years.

of Lausche's frequent state victories. Not all Ohio Republicans are enthusiastic about Bender and, as he says himself, one of his main jobs is to "keep the regular Republicans in the party" and away from Lausche's camp.

The biggest asset going for Bender appears to be Eisenhower's decision to run again. Bender's voice is raised constantly these days in praise of Eisenhower and in pledges of loyalty to the GOP administration.

But the unorthodox Lausche too praises Eisenhower. This prompted the exasperated Bender to explode:

"Lausche is trying to grab Ike's coattails. Those coattails are already occupied by me and there isn't room for anybody else there."

A finance committee made up of some of Ohio's leading industrialists is out to raise $500,000 for Bender's campaign. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has written letters soliciting donations. Lausche says he won't spend more than $30,000 and may make an issue of the contrast.

Bender is pitching his campaign on the contention that Eisenhower needs a Republican Senate if he wins a second term. Democrats now outnumber Senate Republicans 49-47 and a net gain of one vote, combined with the vice president's tie-breaker, could give the GOP control in 1957.

Daylight Time Due To Start On April 29

NEW YORK (AP)—Daylight saving time will be observed in all or parts of 19 states and the District of Columbia this year.

A survey showed today that some states have extended it to late October.

Mostly, daylight time will start at 2 a. m., April 29, the last Sunday of the month.

In those areas which have extended it, clocks will be set back to standard time at 2 a. m. Oct. 28. Otherwise, it ends at 2 a. m. Sunday, Sept. 30.

Daylight saving time got its big push in World War I when it was used to save power. But lots of people got to like the extra hour of sunshine in the garden, at the beach, or on the front porch.

Farmers don't like it. They can't get into the fields before the dew dries anyhow and it doesn't hurry up the livestock for feeding.

This year "fast time" will be observed in whole or in part of California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

In Missouri, only St. Louis will observe it. In New Mexico the atomic city of Los Alamos will be the sole observer.

Here is the "fast time" situation for Ohio:

It will be observed in an area northeast of a line running from Lorain to East Liverpool, April 29-Sept. 30. Major cities include Cleveland, Youngstown, Akron, Canton, Massillon, Steubenville, Alliance, Ashtabula, Elyria, Lakewood, Warren and Salem.

Wildcat Walkout Idles 2,000 Men

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—An unauthorized strike at Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., which started Sunday, now has idled 2,000 men.

Officials of the United Steelworkers Union said there had been no authorization for the walkout, which involved 500 in the open hearth department when it began.

Workers apparently are protesting delay in negotiations for a new schedule for incentive pay rates.

Mother Of Thug Asks Child's Care

CLEVELAND (AP)—The mother of a convicted Cleveland bank robber Louis Teller says she is willing to bring up the daughter of her son's girl friend.

Mrs. Catherine Teller said Lora Ritenour, 18, would like her to take care of the child, born Sunday in the federal reformatory in Alderson, W. Va. "We are going to write the warden about it right away," Mrs. Teller said.

Planning Body Will Announce Its Decision

Ordinance Cannot Be Returned To Council On April 3

The city planning and zoning commission has scheduled a public hearing April 13 on a proposal to rezone a residential area north of Hargus Creek to pave the way for a shopping center.

Commission Chairman Ludwig Haacker disclosed today that the public hearing was arranged at the request of Dale Stewart, of the Columbus real estate firm of Stewart and Neff. Stewart has been top spokesman for a renewed effort to bring about the rezoning of approximately 10 acres.

If the proposal is finally approved by city council, a large Kroger supermarket would be built on the area, immediately north of the creek and between Court and Pickaway streets. The supermarket would serve as nucleus for the proposed shopping center.

Haacker said a poll of the commission members revealed that a public hearing on the matter cannot be held before April 13. The rezoning request, filed in behalf of property owners in the area involved, is in the form of an ordinance which council received on February 21. It was immediately turned over to the planning body.

THE COMMISSION was obliged under law to hold the measure under study for at least 30 days, Haacker said.

Another ordinance now filed by the commission will be returned to council by the time the lawmakers meet April 13, Haacker said. This measure calls for extension of the city's zoning laws to the corporation's new North Annex.

This ordinance involves no controversy, the planning body chairman explained, and no public hearing will be necessary by the commission.

A number of property owners, however, have announced opposition to the so-called "shopping center" ordinance.

Ohio Man's Wife Defies U. S. Judge

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Betty Jane Lippincott, 29, was sent to jail for contempt by U. S. District Judge Mac Swinford yesterday when she refused to testify against her husband after charging him with white slavery.

Mrs. Lippincott, who wore dark glasses, threw kisses to her husband, John Lippincott, 32, Bellefontaine, Ohio, as she said she did not want to prosecute him.

Judge Swinford directed Mrs. Lippincott to answer questions. When she again refused, she was sent to jail and ordered held until she was ready to testify.

By ROGER PRICE

The Schwine Kitzenger Institute has recently embarked on a big campaign to make a fortune out of raising peanuts. Dr. Kitzenger spent several months developing a wonderful, new, electronic Robot Peanut Processing Machine that will eliminate thousands of man-hours now spent by field laborers. The processing machine picks the peanuts, shells the peanuts, sorts and grades the peanuts, salts the peanuts and then roasts the peanuts to a rich, golden brown. There's only one trouble, when it gets through with all this, the machine also eats the peanuts. But, of course, no invention is ever perfect right at first.

Mrs. Cromley Named State DAR Chaplain

Mrs. Martin W. Cromley of Ashville Wednesday was elected chaplain of the Ohio Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Cromley, a member of the Pickaway Plains Chapter of the DAR, was named to the post at the 57th annual state conference held in Cleveland.

Mrs. Arthur T. Davis, of Alliance was chosen regent of the state society.

During the conference, a resolution was passed which stated that fluorides should not be added to a city's water supply without the consent of the people.

FLUORIDATION, a process just approved for the Cleveland area, is intended to cut down tooth decay in children.

Besides approving the fluoridation resolution, the DAR adopted resolutions asking for an investigation of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) and for the withdrawal of the United States from the United Nations if Red China is granted a seat.

Closed-Circuit TV Used By University

BALTIMORE (AP)—A $1,500 closed-circuit television setup, including two 21-inch screens, is being installed at the University of Maryland School of Medicine to simplify the teaching of anatomy.

As many as 100 students will be able to watch the dissection of a cadaver as if they were looking over the shoulder of their instructor. Under the old setup, the 100 students watched the demonstration in five groups of 20 so that all could see.

'Coffee' Man Arrested For Drunk Driving

If a man named Coffee had taken the hint, he may have avoided a drunk driving conviction in city court today.

Clyde Coffee, 28, of Sunbury Route 2, was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his license suspended for six months. He had been arrested by Sgt. Charles Smith for driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

During the trial before Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb, Coffee allegedly admitted having "only eight beers" since starting out from Delaware on his way to Portsmouth. Refusing to take a blood-alcohol test, Coffee was given an oral test.

According to the police report, Coffee had difficulty in pronouncing certain "tongue twisters" and could not distinguish between heads and tails on a coin.

In another city court case, James McCoy of Millport was fined $10 and costs for allowing his female dog to run loose. The affidavit was signed by Pickaway County Humane Officer Ralph Wallace.

Combined Supply Of City-County Free Polio Vaccine Nearly Gone

Public response to offers of free polio vaccine for children 1-10 and pregnant women has nearly depleted the city-county supply here, the county health department revealed today.

Health officials credit articles in The Herald with having an increasing number of persons come in for the anti-polio shots. Under an agreement, the combined supply is being kept at the courthouse.

For awhile, very few persons here were taking advantage of the free vaccine, according to local health officials. Suddenly, everyone seemed to want it at the same time, they reported.

There is enough vaccine at this time to take care of present demands. There are indications that additional supplies may be obtained—but there is nothing definite on this. The vaccine is available to those who cannot normally afford the expense.

ON THE state level, Ohio apparently is headed for a shortage of the serum, according to state health director Dr. Ralph E. Dwork. This situation could spread over into Pickaway County too, local health officials warned, with persons seemingly waiting until just before Summer to take the shots.

Dr. Dwork said that although the state has received two large shipments of the vaccine the total on hand falls far short of the indicated need. He noted that whatever supply is received has to be divided 80 percent to private physicians and 20 percent to public health agencies.

"A number of factors are influencing the situation," he pointed out. "For example, demand for the shots fluctuates from time to time and area to area. One county might use up all of its supply in a short time, while a county right next to it might have the serum on hand for months before people begin to ask for it."

Local health officials said some people think they should wait until it is closer to Summer. Authorities explained however, that this creates the task of trying to give all the shots only a short time before the normal polio season begins in June.

Dr. Dwork said the state has received only a fraction of the supply needed for children 1-10. Even with increased deliveries from big drug house, he explained, the supply will fall far short of the demand.

Health officials here urge those eligible for the free serum to take the shots as soon as possible. Shots are given at the courthouse on Saturday mornings without cost. The serum can also be given by a private physician, who will charge only for his services.

3 Youthful Wapak Escapees Captured Quietly In Indiana

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP)—A young Ohio jailbreaker was taken off an intercity bus here today, and an all-night search ended when his two companions surrendered at a filling station.

About the time Bernard R. Harris, 18, Hazel Park, Mich., was found on the bus, Deputy Sheriff John Shultz received a surrender offer by telephone from a filling station in Chesterfield.

One of the fugitives, Jerry Claus, 18, Muncie, who was an acquaintance of Shultz, told the deputy he and Willie Thomas, 20, Hazel Park, Mich., would wait for him at the filling station. Deputies promptly picked them up.

None of the three was armed. Police stopped the intercity bus on the west side of Muncie when the bus driver blinked his headlights, and Harris was taken off the bus without resistance.

Fifty or more state, county and city officers had been searching for the three jailbreakers all night in heavily wooded Mounds State Park east of Anderson.

THE THREE had overpowered a deputy sheriff and escaped Wednesday from Auglaize County jail in Wapakoneta, Ohio.

The Michigan youths were awaiting trial for first degree murder, and Claus was held for carrying a concealed weapon.

Ohio authorities said the youths stole a truck near the jail, abandoned it on Ohio 127 near the Indiana line, stole an auto there.

That automobile was wrecked on Ind. 67, east of Anderson, after state trooper Larry Fishburn shot out a tire with a rifle in a chase at 90 miles an hour. State police said the youths fled from the car into the woods.

a roadblock set up after a grocery in Cammack, east of Muncie, was held up and robbed of $349.10. The robbers matched the description of the young jailbreakers. Papers found in the wrecked car were linked with the robbery.

A third youth who had been arrested along with Thomas and Harris in the fatal shooting of Charles Stolzenbach, 54, Wapakoneta tavern keeper, was being held in the juvenile detention quarters on the second floor of the jail at the time of the escape. He is James Thornton, 17, also of Hazel Park, Mich. His case is scheduled for hearing April 10.

Thomas, Harris and Thornton were arrested in Michigan and returned to Ohio for the Jan. 24 slaying of Stolzenbach in his Hickory Villa Tavern.

Charity Racketeers Make Heavy Haul

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three cents out of every dollar that Americans contribute to charity wind up in the pockets of racketeers, says an expert in the solicitation of funds.

Paul Reed, executive director of the National Information Bureau, said yesterday that legitimate funds face difficulties unless the chiselers are eliminated. He told the National Conference on Solicitations that Americans contribute about $5.4 billion to charity annually but racketeers siphon off $160 million of it.

Brean Author Of Mag Story On "Bridey"

A writer whose name was already familiar to Pickaway County residents is by-lined on a Life Magazine story that deals with Bridget Murphy—who may or may not have lived in the early 19th Century.

Herbert Brean, son of Mrs. C. G. Shulze of 316 S. Court St., is the author of the story in the current issue of the magazine. The well-illustrated account gives the reader a full review of the strange facts, disputed questions and scientific theories stirred by the book, "The Search for Bridget Murphy."

The mysterious Bridey is said to have revealed herself through the hypnotized person of a young Pueblo, Col., housewife. While deep in trance, the subject told how she had grown up in early 19th Century Ireland, married, died and then watched her own funeral.

Discussions based on her story have ranged from high humor to deeply serious claims, wrapped together in a mass of controversy.

Brean's story in Life is one of the most complete accounts yet printed on the subject.

Residents Invited To Refuse Clinic Set For Lancaster

Local residents are invited to attend a one-day refuse clinic to be held next Tuesday, March 27, in Lancaster.

Municipal, township, county and public health officials will be on hand to meet with interested citizens. The meeting, scheduled for the Lancaster council chamber in the city building there, is being sponsored by that city and several state agencies.

Objective of the conference is to reach solutions to problems of improper storage, collection and disposal of refuse.

Judge Frees Men Held For Helping Deer

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—Charges filed by a game warden against three men have been dropped in municipal court here and the defendants praised by Judge Lowell Thompson for doing a "Good Samaritan Act."

Game Warden Robert L. Guilkey had accused George Elkins, Lawrence E. Waddell and Brison Moore, all employees of the Scioto County Engineer's office, with possession of a deer out of season.

But in court the men testified they were cleaning ditches in Roosevelt Game Preserve near Portsmouth when they found a fawn on the road. The fawn appeared to be dying after being attacked by dogs. The three said they put the deer in a truck and took it to a veterinarian, then released it when it recovered several hours later.

The judge, in praising the men, said they may have been technically guilty of possessing a deer but didn't feel they should be punished.

NEW YORK (AP)—Insurance companies have paid $1 million to the Chase Manhattan Bank to make up for its misplaced million-dollar U. S. Treasury note.

Salads rank high on the list of foods that tempt the appetite, please the eye and tease the memory. Few luncheons and dinner meals are complete without something crisp, something fresh, something green.

Consumer marketing specialists remind us that today—because of specialization in agriculture, improvements in techniques of handling, packaging, refrigeration and the development of more rapid transportation—the vegetables are available the year 'round.

Often the vegetables are washed and packaged. This calls for less handling in the market and at home, and may also mean improved quality for the consumer. Anytime is time for a salad! The variety of salads requires little more than the ingenuity of the interesting combinations.

A SALAD may be as simple as a bowl of spring greens tossed with a commercial dressing. Or, it may be an elaborately molded concoction with a colorful, calorie, cream dressing.

The success of a salad depends largely upon the dressing. The Spaniards were convinced the "to make a perfect salad, one should be a spendthrift for oil, a miser for vinegar, a wise man for salt, and a mad cap to mix the ingredients together."

There are four major types of salads: appetizer, main course, accompaniment and dessert.

SOMEWHERE in each of the hundreds of possible salad variations one will find a member of the "green family". This clan is probably larger than one realizes and includes: kale, spinach, chikory, water cress, endive, nasturtium leaves, romaine, Chinese cabbage, red cabbage, escarole, sour grass, dandelion greens, the many members of the onion and lettuce families, etc.

Currently, food shoppers will find a wide selection within the green onion family. These include, onions with a bulb stem; shallots, which have a straight stem; leeks, which are much larger than shallots and have flat solid leaves; chives, the tops and roots of which are used for flavoring food.

"Iceberg" is the most popular type of lettuce. It is a firm, solid head.

Bibb lettuce is a small, flat, loose head. The leaves are dark green. It is considered to be the most tender of all lettuce and has a very delicate flavor. The leaves do not need to be cut before serving.

Leaf lettuce may have either a curled or smooth leaf. It is ideal for wilting, as the bed for other salads, as well as in sandwiches.

A pound of leaf lettuce or a one-pound head of lettuce will serve four salads. A one-pound head

Idle Pay Claims Showing Decline

COLUMBUS (AP)—A drop in new claims for unemployment compensation was reported by the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation for the second week.

New claims for the week ending March 17 were estimated at 6,908, the BUC said. For the preceding week new claims totaled 8,280, and for the week ending March 3, 10,174 new claims were reported.

The total for claimants unemployed one week or more also dropped. For the week ending March 17, the figure for continuing claims was 60,616, compared with 63,485 the preceding week.

1925 Model T Ford Parts Are Scarce

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—In this hotrod age, Kenneth Wagner's problem will be hard to solve.

A teen-ager learning to drive smashed into Wagner's 1925 Model T Ford. He figures it will cost $200 for a wooden spoke wheel, headlight and fender, but so far he hasn't had any luck in finding parts. The Ford had never been in an accident before; it had been in storage several years.

February Turnpike Take At New Low

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Turnpike toll collections totaled $718,487 for February, the lowest figure since the 241-mile super-highway was opened last Oct. 1. Collections were nearly $75,000 less than in January.

Official figures show 393,992 passenger cars and 105,205 trucks used the turnpike in February. Revenues for the five months through February totaled $4,653,552.

will yield 12 to 16 lettuce cups for salad beds.

Since an identical number of servings is obtained from a pound of each type, the price per pound and family preference may be a guide as to the type of purchase. The Bibb type of lettuce is more expensive.

REGARDLESS of variety, the shopper should select lettuce that is fresh, clean, crisp, tender and as green as possible. Green color indicates high Vitamin A content. Lettuce, because of its copper content, helps prevent anemia. Iron alone is not enough. Copper is required to enable the body to use the iron in forming hemoglobin.

Currently, the green onions are coming to this area from Texas, celery from Florida and California, carrots from Texas and Arizona, radishes from Florida, and lettuce from the Imperial Valley in California and from Arizona.

Garlic is often used in salads. Did you know that Americans consume more garlic than any other seasoning, with the exception of salt and onion? The American Dehydrated Onion and Garlic Association furnishes this statistic.

Waverly A-Plant Completed At Big Financial Savings

WAVERLY (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission says its new plant here now is in full operation, completed at a cost of more than $400 million below original estimates.

The original cost estimate was $1,219,000,000. S. R. Sapirie, manager of the AEC's Oak Ridge, Tenn., operations, said actual cost of the Ohio plant in nearby Pike County now is estimated at 800 million dollars or 32½ per cent below the preliminary estimate.

Construction of the U-235-producing, gaseous diffusion plant started at the end of 1952. It is now under the operation of Goodyear Atomic Corp.

Sapirie also disclosed that Goodyear's original manpower estimate of 4,000 employees has been reduced to 2,800, representing a payroll savings of more than 6½ million dollars a year. He attributed the considerable savings in the operation of the plant to (1) increased efficiency of plant equipment which reduced maintenance requirements, and (2) additional improved instruments permitting the use of less manpower for operation.

Sapirie listed these major factors in the reduction in cost of the plant:

1. Improvement in methods and techniques of construction through interchange of ideas among the contractors at Portsmouth, Paducah, Ky., and Oak Ridge installations.

2. Substantially lower costs of materials and equipment resulting from stabilization of the materials market, keen competitive bidding by sub-contractors and reduction in unit costs of tooling up for the specialized equipment because of the large numbers required.

3. Utilization of construction equipment and materials which already had been used on other AEC construction jobs.

4. Savings in labor costs alone estimated at more than 196 million dollars; this resulted from a shorter construction period and more even distribution of the labor force than originally contemplated, so that the peak employment was reduced from 30,000 to 20,000 in August 1954.

5. Excellent cooperation between labor and management resulting in very few work stoppages, contributing materially to labor cost savings.

6. Improvement in over all economic conditions in the construction industry throughout the building period at the plant.

Said Sapirie:

"Since the project was built on a 'crash' basis to meet the commission's U-235 production goals, the complete operation of the plant several months ahead of schedule represents a significant contribution to the production of U-235 which is so important in the national defense program."

Only one phase of the original program remains to be completed. This is the "feed" plant to convert uranium compounds to uranium hexafluoride gas. Construction of this facility is to start shortly and be completed within 18 months.

U-235 is used not only in making bombs but also in many peace time uses, as providing fuel for atomic power plants and reactors which make various other elements radioactive for use in industry, medicine and agriculture.

Ticket On City Cruiser 'Joke', Jackson Deputy Writes Chief

An incident in which a ticket for overparking at a meter in Jackson was found on a Circleville police cruiser, there on official business, has reached the Abbott and Costello stage.

An assumption that it was all a practical joke was confirmed in a letter to Chief Elmer Merriman here. The chief was on the receiving end of the ticket.

Jackson County Deputy Sheriff Charles F. Hunter, in whose office Chief Merriman had been when the ticket incident took place, wrote: "I wish to apologize for the incident... here in Jackson. The parking ticket that you received was put on your car by a joker."

"THIS JOKER received that ticket... and when he saw your car parked (two hours later)... he put it on yours."

"This joker is being brought before the mayor here in Jackson. May your return to Jackson be a happy one (next time)."

The "comedy" began when Chief Merriman had gone there to pick up a prisoner for return here. Not being able to find a parking space near the sheriff's office, Chief Merriman pulled in at a meter nearly covered to the top with construction lumber for a nearby job.

Upon returning to the car, the chief found the ticket—"a big, yellow one at that." He went back into the sheriff's office and timidly asked where the police station was so he could pay the ticket.

Deputy Hunter chided the chief for not obeying the law. "Next time, bring a marked cruiser," he joked.

CHIEF MERRIMAN replied, "just take a look out the window at what I drove here." The deputy looked and saw Circleville's No. 1 cruiser, complete with lettering, red light siren and whip aerial. The chief now says, "At first I didn't think much of Jackson's courtesy. But now, my faith is restored."

Hybrid Chicks Farm And Home Week Subject

Hybrid chickens are one of the better egg layers, but not necessarily the best, R. George Jaap, Ohio State University professor of poultry science, said Tuesday. He spoke to a Farm and Home Week audience in Columbus on the subject of hybrid chicks.

Competitors of the hybrids, Dr. Jaap said, are Leghorns and Leghorn strain crosses which have demonstrated their egg laying ability in Random Sample tests. Crossbreds, often called "Hybrids," are among the better broiler chicks, according to Dr. Jaap. They compete for top honors with White Plymouth Rocks.

Testing is necessary to identify superior kinds of chickens for either eggs or meat production, the speaker explained. Any strain or cross which is above average for several years, or in several tests, is an excellent choice, in the opinion of Dr. Jaap.

Producers who want both meat and eggs have two alternatives, Dr. Jaap noted. They may buy sexed Leghorn-type pullets for the layers and non-sexed broiler chicks for meat, or they may select a superior egg layer from the heavy-bodied broiler-type strains or crosses.

When hen or stewing chicken prices are low, the first alternative is most expedient, Dr. Jaap said. The large broiler-strain White Plymouth Rocks or crosses weigh at least 2 or 3 pounds more than the Leghorn-type layer. This means they consume 16 to 24 pounds more feed per year to lay as many eggs as the Leghorn-type, he pointed out.

Her Color Taste Riled By Patch

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Catchings just can't abide that black asphalt patch on the white concrete sidewalk in front of her apartment house.

City workmen scrapped away the asphalt before it hardened. The city workmen put it back; she removed it again. After one more round, City Manager Joseph W. Watson suggested they see if white cement wouldn't blend with the rest of the sidewalk.

Miss Catchings said she just wants a patch that won't jar her color sensibilities.

Election Chiefs Worry About Voter Apathy

Big Cities Report Registrations Fall Off From '52 Figure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio election officials show increasing concern over voter apathy in this presidential election year.

Reports to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown indicate registrations have fallen off since the 1952 election in counties requiring voters to qualify before receiving ballots in the primary next May 8.

Deadline for registration in the 37 counties requiring it falls next Wednesday, March 28. Registration is required automatically in all cities of 16,000 or more population.

Voters registrations are good for two calendar years. It works out like this:

If you voted in 1952 or 1953 but haven't voted since, you won't be able to vote in the May primaries unless you register again where registration is required. Registrations for those who voted in 1954 still are good this year.

Reports from Dayton said registrations in Montgomery County have hit the lowest level since 1946.

Registrations have increased recently in Cuyahoga and Mahoning counties but still are well below 1952 totals on the basis of reports from Cleveland and Youngstown.

Cuyahoga County figures showed 1,241 new registrations for the first half of March against 808 for a comparable period four years ago. But officials said total registrations stood at only 546,800 compared with a record high of 763,513 before the 1952 general election.

Mahoning County officials said registrations currently are on the increase but that they still are some 1,500 below four years ago. Last week's total hit 115,555, compared with about 117,000 in March 1952.

Figures generally were lacking but Brown said reports indicated that registrations are down in most areas.

"I am deeply concerned," Brown said, "because reports from boards of election show people are not registered to vote in this important primary."

"Party candidates are chosen in the primary and, therefore, it is more important to vote in the primary than in the general election" next Nov. 6, the state's chief election official asserted.

A total of 1,535,055 Ohioans voted in the 1952 primaries. That was the year Harold Stassen, former Minnesota governor, challenged the late Sen. Robert A. Taft for delegates to the Republican National Convention. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee challenged the Democratic state organization for delegates to that party's presidential nominating convention at the same time.

Voting always falls off in non-presidential election years. The 1954 primary total was 869,222.

Brown figures that Ohio's potential voters have increased by

Missile Carrier Driver Is Killed

CLEVELAND (AP)—A truck driver making a test run on the Ohio Turnpike with a new missile carrier intended for the Marine Corps was killed yesterday when a truck hit his vehicle from the rear.

Carroll Light of Cleveland died when the carrier crashed on the turnpike near Strongsville.

Louis Howard, 27, of Farmington, Mich., driver of the truck, was charged with manslaughter. State highway patrolmen reported the missile carrier was owned by Baker-Raulang Co. of Cleveland, and that it was being driven at 35 miles an hour.

Prisoner Strolls Just To Irk Cops

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—While waiting to be returned to his cell after questioning, prisoner Leon Ray Hays was left alone.

He walked through an open door, took the screen off an unbarred window and slid down a convenient tree beside Amarillo's new "breakproof" jail.

Later, Hays walked into the police station and told "Lt. E. E. Story, 'I tried to call to tell you I would be back. I just wanted to see what you guys would do.'"

Youngster Suffers 25th Heart Attack

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (AP)—Seven-year-old Sheila Whitehead is back in the hospital again, suffering from her 25th heart attack.

The little blonde, blue-eyed girl's heart is too big for her body, doctors say, and they have advised her mother, Mrs. Hazel Whitehead, an operation may be fatal.

Sheila suffered two attacks Monday after her temperature suddenly rose to 106. So back she went to the hospital and the familiar oxygen mask.

Piles Of Snow Challenge To Kids

NORTHFIELD, Mass. (AP)—A group of Northfield residents has found a way to make use of the huge piles of snow that line the streets after two blizzards.

They invited the children to line main street with snow sculptures. If the idea works out they'll make an annual affair of it.

125,000 in recent years to about 5,800,000. He based his figures on an estimated 8,720,000 population for the state.

The gain in potential voters results from residents reaching 21 years of age and those who moved into Ohio and attained the year's residence requirement by election time, he explained. Voters also must live in their county and precinct for 40 days to be eligible to cast primary ballots.

Young citizens who will turn 21 before the Nov. 6 general election can register and vote in the May primaries.

Ohioans who have changed their names by marriage, divorce or otherwise since their last registration must re-register with election boards in person to become eligible to vote. Those who have moved can re-register by mail.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a successful business man, 51, and in part I have achieved my goal in life, which was to give my children the education I missed; and to retire in middle age from money making, with enough income to devote myself to church work, civic service and travel.

I recently concluded a trip around the world, and another to Europe, and my wife went with me. But it took a real selling job to get her to go. We have been married 30 years and recently a wide rift has developed.

The problem is my wife's mother, I'll call her Mrs. X. She is 75 and hard of hearing, and refuses to wear a hearing aid. Three years ago she terminated a highly unsuccessful second marriage, and when my wife first brought her here, we had her 11 months before I was told it was a visit or a permanent thing. But my wife did say how unkind I was to ask; and she promised to make other arrangements, but hasn't done so.

Mrs. X has a son who could help, in providing her a home; but he isn't interested. Also she has two widowed sisters living together, but they haven't offered to share with her. I've offered to build a house for all three and take care of Mrs. X's upkeep. But to have her with us disrupts my plans, as she requires constant care and ties us down.

My public speaking work includes extensive travel, and it's no ed persons, concerned to discover and do the will of God—as the "plan" for their lives—tell us that, in general, the will of God consists in doing the duty that plainly lies before us. The task, in short, that lands on our doorstep.

If you have to move, go; and let the ladies readjust at their own pace. But if you don't have to move, my theory is that the noblest solution—for you—is to stay put, as is, and let your wife humor her mother at your expense.

Then you'll have a clear conscience for life—as neither of them can have, if they exploit your goodness to this extent.

In brief, it may be the will of God, for your greater sanctification, that you sacrifice your large ambitions, to patiently serve these two tiresome creatures.

M. H. Mary Hawthorth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

FARM NEWS and VIEWS

By R. S. SWENSON, County Agent

TREE PLANTING: Three troops of Boy Scouts from Circleville gathered at the Pickaway County Fair Grounds and planted some 400 trees as the Boy Scouts part in the "Plant Ohio" program for 1956. The Scouts used this as the project in conservation and were very enthusiastic in their work.

They worked in teams of three with one being responsible for handling the tree seedlings, one digging the hole and the third the actual planting of the tree. Trees were planted in two rows along the fence bordering the Fair Grounds on the North and East side. They were spaced four feet apart.

At a later date, the trees that do good may be transplanted to other locations as they begin to crowd each other. Trees were also planted at the Pickaway Township School by the students in the Biology classes. This project is one of establishing a school forest.

CORN VARIETIES: The following Ohio hybrids are recommended for 1956 planting in Area 6 — of

Ohio Solon In Heated House Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A debate in the House Wednesday between Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) and Rep. Sieminski (D-N.J.) ended with Sieminski inviting Hays to "meet me outside."

The two Congressmen clashed over bills to allow two retired Army generals to take immigration posts.

Hays took the floor to protest the bills saying he was suspicious of the two proposed appointees because "they were picked by Gen. Swing" (Gen. J. N. Swing, ret., now head of the Immigration Service.)

Sieminski asserted that Gen. Swing was "a fighting general... there are 48 stars in that man's heart and brain."

Hays then encountered Sieminski in the aisle and Sieminski was overheard to inquire, "do you want to meet me outside?"

After further debate the House approved a bill allowing Brig. Gen. Edwin B. Howard to accept a civilian post as assistant commissioner for field inspection and security and a similar measure allowing Maj. Gen. Frank H. Partidge to become assistant border patrol commissioner.

'Drag Race' Blamed In Boy's Death

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—The sheriff's office reports that a school-boy's death as he rode his bike along the Youngstown-Poland Road followed a "drag race" between two young drivers.

James A. Shepas, 11, was struck and killed Tuesday as he rode home from St. Nicholas School.

Sheriff Paul J. Langley said the driver of the car which hit the boy was Ronald Katz, 19, of Struthers. Another Struthers youth came to the sheriff's office several hours later and admitted engaging in a "drag race" with Katz.

Farmers Told Draining Land Pays Dividend

Drainage of wet, fertile land may cut cost of production as much as 20 percent, Virgil Overholt, Ohio State University extension agricultural engineer, told Farm and Home Week visitors in Columbus Tuesday.

Farming wet land increases wear and tear on equipment and is responsible for delay and loss of valuable time, Overholt said. He listed as a first step in draining wet land the prompt but orderly removal of excess surface water.

If surface water stands too long in shallow pools, he said, it may kill the crop, seal the surface and retard infiltration of rainfall. With adequate surface drainage there will be less surplus soil moisture to be removed by tile lines.

The extension engineer noted that good internal drainage may mean the saving of a week or more in getting a crop started. The free water removed by tile drains does not rob the plant of available moisture needed during periods of drought, he explained. Crops use only capillary moisture which tile lines cannot carry away. More organic matter will improve the moisture relationship in any soil, he said.

Where systematic tile drainage is needed, according to Overholt, the cost will vary from $75 to $125 an acre. If it is a fertile soil, he said, drainage will pay for itself in from 5 to 10 years.

Florida's Political Picture Appears Somewhat Confused

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Joseph Samuel Havsepian typifies some of the confusion you run into in trying to figure out whether Florida will go for President Eisenhower again in November.

Havsepian is a red-hot Eisenhower booster. But he is just as red hot for Fuller Warren, a Democratic former governor and now one of five men contesting Gov. Leroy Collins' bid for re-election in the May 8 primary.

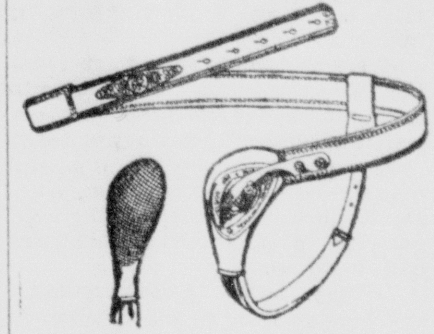

It doesn't strike Havsepian as unusual that Warren, whom he champions so stoutly, is a strong booster of Adlai Stevenson both against Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for Florida's 28 votes in the Democratic National Convention, and against Eisenhower in November.

But, to quote Havsepian, a pipe organ builder and a Democrat: "If Ike wasn't in it, I'd vote for Kefauver. Next to Ike, I think he's another statesman. Stevenson is a politician."

Overholt told his audience it is important to plan well before installing any tile drainage, pointing out that 15 percent of all tile installed in Ohio consists of the replacement of unplanned "hit or miss" drainage. A well-planned drainage system will last 100 years, he said, but the average life of a tile drain in Ohio is only 40 to 50 years.

Democratic and Republican politicians say Stevenson has an edge on Kefauver for Florida's Democratic contention votes. They are contesting in the second, or runoff Democratic primary May 29. Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) bested Kefauver in the preferential primary four years ago.

Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) is lukewarm to both Stevenson and Kefauver. Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) has boosted Senate Majority Leader Lydon John (D-Tex.) as the party's 1956 standard bearer.

Peyton Yon, assistant treasurer of the Republican State Executive Committee, registered as a Republican after a tour of duty in 1952 as a Democrats-for-Eisenhower worker.

He told this reporter he and a lot of his neighbors switched to Eisenhower four years ago because they thought the national Democratic organization had gone too far in pushing civil rights.

And while he said he is confident Eisenhower will carry the state again, he said the people he has talked to in west Florida "aren't too strong for Nixon," adding: "He'll have to do a selling job for himself down here."

After Retirement He Enters Clergy
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Frank Adams Taylor retired in Florida six years ago at the age of 44. He had been a professional athlete, tobacco inspector, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture official, realtor and an insurance salesman.

Now he is about to come out of retirement to officially begin his career as a Presbyterian minister. He will receive his bachelor of divinity degree in May.

NEEDLESS INVESTIGATION

THE USUAL BILL to investigate the spread between farm and city prices has been introduced in Congress by a member from Iowa. Whether it will get any farther than in the past is questionable.

As a matter of fact Congress now has all the information it needs. All it has to do is call on the federal bureaus which have collected the facts.

These show that the "market basket" of farm foods, which in 1952 brought $482 to the farmer, paid him only $400 in 1955. The same foods cost the city dweller $1,035 in 1952 and $55 less last year. Two-thirds of the $82 decline for the farmer has been passed on to the consumer.

The remaining $27 is accounted for by higher wages and transportation costs and higher taxes. Profits of processors and distributors have remained stable.

During normal peace times there would not have been this disparity between farm and city prices. All prices would have gone down, just as they go up in war times. But peace is mixed up with cold war producing a world-wide armaments race which causes city prices to boom. Demand for farm products has slumped because all nations have increased their food production over war times.

If Congress knows what to do about these matters, well and good. But what it needs least of all is another investigation of the disparity between farm and city prices.

INDUCEMENT TO BUY

AN INTERESTING development is occurring in the automotive field, which is seeking unusual inducements to encourage the public to buy more cars.

American Motors Corporation, a merger of Nash and Hudson, developed a plan to give a $10,000 one-year accident life insurance policy to buyers of new cars. The Studebaker-Packard Corp. announced a similar policy to purchasers of its cars, with a coverage of $20,000. AMC then raised the ante to $25,000.

These companies are competitors in the auto market field for the less than 5 per cent of total sales not accounted for by the Big Three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Whether these are hazards accepted by the two corporations or the policies will be handled by existing insurance companies isn't stated. Such policies cost about $25 each but usually are included among other coverage.

Whatever the details may be, competition in the motor car field certainly is turning up an assortment of inducements that buyers in the past never dreamed of.

WOMEN IN THE PULPIT

WOMEN CLERGYMEN are not rare, there being 5,791 ordained or licensed women ministers in the United States. Most of them are concentrated in three or four denominational sects.

Now come the presbyteries of the Presbyterian church with the promise of expanding pulpit oratory on the distaff side. Of the 257 presbyteries, more than half are for it and many have not yet reported. Only 27 have definitely expressed disapproval.

This denomination has 6,000 ordained clergy, 8,282 churches and a membership of more than 2.5 million. Proposals to or-

Snow—Pure White Magic

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Mother Nature has waved a magic wand over New York, and turned the big city into a village.

As you saw in the papers, we have been getting snow here, a fantastic amount for this corner of the country. Some of the old-timers, sitting around in Manhattan equivalents of the general store and the pot-bellied iron stove, are comparing this storm with the real wing-ding blizzards of the past.

It choked the streets, buried parked automobiles, and most wonderful of all, made the traffic simply vanish in thin air.

It delights children, opens theater doors (because so many people with tickets can't get downtown), makes strangers feel like talking to each other, and gives everybody a chance to tell you "how I got to the office."

It has been magic, pure white magic.

These Days

It stands to reason that those who hope to hold Stalin's place as Czar of all the Russians have to destroy his "personality," as they call it. Otherwise, as long as they rule, they will be compared to Stalin to their disadvantage because not only the Russian people, but the conquered peoples in all the satellite countries have been forced to believe that Stalin is the greatest figure that ever lived and that whatever he said and did was right.

How is such an order of life suddenly changed? The collective leadership consists entirely of Stalin's subordinates, men who are alive because Stalin let them live.

Never once did they risk their lives to oppose what they now say Stalin did. Of course, Stalin was a murderer. Of course, he emulated Ivan the Terrible. But all the men who are in the collective leadership today were associated with Stalin in his absolutism. They profited by it.

However, politics is a technique that is practised without too much sentimentality anywhere. The objective of the politician is to keep himself in office and in power and a dead man is only useful to him if his ghost can keep him in office and in power.

Stalin built the largest and most compact empire in history. He brought to Russia great power and enormous wealth. He did it by a brutality hardly equalled in history. His successors have to produce something to equal the achievements of Stalin.

One of the ways for them to succeed is to discredit Stalin and his accomplishments. "Do you think that Stalin did so much at Yalta?" they can ask. "Look what we did at Geneva! Stalin made all the world suspicious of Russia, but we are winning victories without suspicion."

Another factor in this situation is that no great revolutionary leaders exist in Russia today because Stalin killed them. The present collective leadership is post-revolutionary as most of the people in Russia are post-revolutionary.

If a man is 50 years old today, he was 11 years old in 1917; a man of 30 was born altogether outside the period of revolution and during the time when Stalin was already in control. There is little memory among the people of Trotsky, Bukharin, Zinoviev or Kamenev; Lenin is recalled as a distant god whose writings must be read to gain any advancement in the Communist hierarchy. The people to whom Stalin addressed himself in the 1920's were very different from those to whom Khrushchev addresses himself today.

Bolshevik Russia is dying; a new Russia has come upon the scene. The martini has taken the place of vodka, but it's still bad for the liver.

The new Russia is being designed by Khrushchev who has to destroy Stalin's Russia and Stalin's Soviet Universal State before he can make his plans work. Stalin apparently preferred to be feared; Khrushchev, Bulganin, Malenkov and the others of this generation prefer to be popular.

They travel abroad and dress in the native costume of wherever they happen to be. Malenkov grins in London like a cartoon of a cockney character I once saw in a Charles Laughton picture. Maybe he saw that picture, too.

Stalin did not find it necessary to do any grinning; he was obviously willing to be hated by those who were not his slaves. Stalinism prevailed among a people accustomed to a Czar.

dain women were defeated in 1930 and in 1947.

As wives, mothers and in other fields women are notable ministers. They have compassion and tolerance, loving mercy and a highly developed sense of justice. In the future, it seems, there will be fewer limits to their denominational leadership except willingness and capacity to serve.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

MEG, HEARING from an indignant Matilda that Michael was David's lawyer, wondered uneasily if her own attitude had anything to do with it.

When she tackled Michael, he denied it. "Jason persuaded me."

"Jason?"

"Don't ask me why. I don't know myself." He left abruptly, and Meg spent an uncomfortable evening with Jenny.

"I can't believe David's guilty!" she exploded finally. "He wouldn't seduce a—strumpet, let alone a child like Louise Fenner!"

Jenny was aghast. "But he must have, Meg! No girl would say such a thing if—"

She stammered into embarrassed silence.

There was the rub all right. Who but a devious schemer would publicly abandon virtue? Louise was only fifteen years old. It must be true, but Meg couldn't believe it anyhow.

She was alone on the next evening. The other women had gone to a church supper. Meg was sewing reluctantly on the simple tasks Jenny had laid out for her and Johnny was sleeping on the sofa. David Lurkins knocked on the door early in the hour after the others had departed.

"Why-y, David. Good evening."

He bobbed his head. His hands trembled on the hat he held; he looked shrunken, as if his clothes were suddenly too large for him.

"I—I wonder if I could see my—could see Anna?"

Meg had forgotten she was in the house. "Of course. First door at the top of the stairs, third floor."

David did not move. He looked at the stairs, then returned his beaten gaze to Meg. Pity welled in her.

"I'm sorry, David. She put her hand on his arm. "I'm sure nobody will believe—"

When everything's explained they'll be sorry."

His eyes were as dull and hopeless as those of an old dog. "Anna believes it."

"No, no, of course she doesn't." Meg fought her own uncertainty. "The shock naturally—you just go on up and talk to her."

Still he didn't budge. "I—if you'd show me?"

Hervens above, Meg fumed, the man's afraid of his own wife!

"All right. Come along."

Meg hurried up the stairs, conscious of his lagging steps behind her. She tapped lightly on Anna's door.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Two almost identical accidents involving six autos and injuring nine persons occurred during Friday night's heavy rain storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Moats and daughters are going to Tarleton Sunday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Peters, parents of Mrs. Moats.

Only four persons will be employed in each precinct in the primary municipal elections on May 8 instead of the two-crew system used last November.

A half-ton truck, owned by Christian Weffler of E. Franklin St., which was stolen last Friday night, was recovered Sunday by Circleville Police Chief W. F. McCrady and Patrolman Carl Radcliff.

Having sold his grain company to John W. Eschelman of Circleville, Alva Hill of Harrisburg, has decided to retire.

Names of 36 men discharged from the armed forces during the period from Feb. 26 to March 6, were released Monday by the Pickaway County Selective Service Board.

For some reason he cannot fathom, they've never fared well in Pittsburgh, Pa. The last time they were pencilled in for a week there, Lunt decided to do something about it.

When the week was over, Lunt sought out the company manager. "I told you I'd fix everything," he announced triumphantly. "Look at these figures, man! $3,500 net profit!"

"Uh huh," agreed the manager

Kiwani-Annes Hold Second Annual Officer Installation

Mrs. Guy Campbell Assumes Presidency

The second annual installation of officers for the Circleville Kiwanis-Annes was held Wednesday night in Wardell Party Home with approximately 50 members and guests present.

Mrs. Guy Campbell was installed as president of the organization. Others were: Mrs. Harold Clifton, first vice-president; Mrs. George Hartman, second vice-president; Mrs. Tom Thorne, secretary; and Mrs. Roscoe Warren, treasurer.

The installation ceremonies were conducted by Mr. Harold Clifton, immediate past president of the Circleville Kiwanis Club.

Mrs. Margaret Anderson, who gave some remarks, presented the gavel to Mrs. Campbell, who also said a few words.

The following committees were appointed: membership, Mrs. Frank Marion; sunshine, Mrs. Herman Aulls; and publicity and press, Mrs. Bertus Bennett and Mrs. Darrell Hatfield.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Jeanne Shea, a Circleville native and now a Columbus television star. She showed slides of how television programs are presented. She was assisted by Miss Eloise Winters.

Husbands, guests of Kiwanis-Anne members, were welcomed with an original song written by a member, Mrs. Mertz Lorenz, to the tune of "Happy Birthday."

The invocation was given by Mrs. Kathryn Barnhill. A song-fest was held and a chicken dinner was served. The program was closed with prayer by Mrs. Campbell.

County Nurses Unit Hears Talk On Cerebral Palsy

Members of the Pickaway County Nurses Association heard a talk on cerebral palsy at their meeting held in the home of Mrs. L. Thomas of W. Franklin St.

The meeting, which was attended by 20 members and two guests, was presided over by Mrs. Arthur Bowman, president of the organization.

The guest speaker was Grace Roberts, administrative director of the cerebral palsy treatment center in Columbus. In her talk, she touched upon the therapy problems and described the three main types of cerebral palsy.

During the business session, a committee was set up to review the number of nurses in the county for the purpose of assigning them to aid stations to be operated in times of emergency.

Members also issued an open invitation to all new nurses in this area to attend the Association's meetings and to join the group.

Plans were discussed for the rummage sale scheduled for April 20. The event will be held in the Armory and is being sponsored by the Federated Women's Clubs.

At the close of the session, refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Kathryn White.

The next meeting is set for 8 p. m. April 17 in the home of Mrs. Romaine Wilson of Walnut Creek Pike.

Open a can of tomato juice in the morning. Add a slice of onion, a few peppercorns, a few celery leaves and some strips of green pepper to it. Chill and allow the flavors to blend. Serve for dinner that night with crisp crackers.

Sliced fresh pears are delightful added to a compote of small pieces of pineapple, oranges, grapefruit and fresh dates. Put the fruit combination in your best glass bowl and serve for a company dessert. Add some maraschino cherries, if you like, for extra-pretty color.

Be sure to make a round of your baking-powder biscuit dough before kneading it; helps in shaping biscuits neatly!

Beef that is to be pot-roasted should be cut that weights at least four pounds.

Split Nails Bring Problem Which Can Be Solved

"How can I get my fingernails to grow?" is a question often asked by beauty-conscious women, whose nails stay short because they are continually splitting.

It is a common problem, but one that can be solved.

One possible remedy is to use a special cream designed just for nails. It contains cholesterol, lanolin, white iodine and natural oils. Massage it into the nail base and sides. It absorbs quickly and can be applied while polish is on. For best results, use it daily.

It is also a wise idea to get down to the cause of the condition.

Split nails can result from abuses to the nail plate which cause the layers to split apart. With this in mind, do not use fingernail as tools to open containers, and don't hit your nail edge against a hard surface. It is wiser to use your fingertips rather than your nails for grasping or opening objects.

Sometimes nail brittleness is the result of diet deficiency. If you think this might be your trouble, check with your doctor. It can also be caused by constant use of water and harsh cleaning agents in housework.

In addition to using the special nail cream, remember that polish protects your nails. Give yourself a manicure once a week, using a base coat, two applications of polish and a top coat. Put them all together and they add up to four layers of protective coloring and covering.

Junior Woodmen Club Forms Plans For Two Events

Plans for a handi-craft show and a "Pop and Mom Nite" to be held in May were discussed at a meeting of the Junior Modern Woodmen Club held in the Masonic Temple building.

President Ronnie Derexson conducted the business session which was attended by 36 members and five guests. Guests were: Nancy Cline, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Don Whaley and Frederick Davidson.

Games were played and contests held under the leadership of Director Ruby Cross and her assistant, Marlene Miller.

Prizes were awarded to: Juanita Walisa, Nancy Cline, Margaret Teets, Donna Whaley, Stephen Miller, and Bucky Watson.

Mrs. Cross and Miss Miller, assisted by Mrs. Don Whaley and Mrs. Robert Miller, served refreshments.

Club members and guests will meet at 2 p. m. March 31 for an Easter Egg hunt.

New Elastic Nylon Hose Makes Hit With Many Women

There is good news for women who have varicose veins and are self-conscious about the way their legs look. If they must wear elastic stockings, there are new ones on the market that are not only elastic, but nylon and—51 gauge sheer!

It changes the entire picture. Makes elastic stockings a fashionable necessity. Better yet, while sheer, the stockings conceal veins. This means there is no longer a need to wear over-hose.

Among the features of the new hose is that they fit beautifully, with graduated support from ankle to thigh. Stretch yarn is used for heel and toe, so there is no cramping and binding of feet.

Seams are also designed for comfort. Due to the light, thin thread used, they are not thick, bulky or irritating to the back of the leg.

As price goes, the stockings are an expensive item. The price, however, is offset by several considerations.

First, wear tests show they are less subject to snags and runs than regular nylons. Second, they eliminate the expense of wearing a cover-up pair of hose over elastic stockings. Finally, you do not need to buy the nylon-elastics for the pair. If you get a run, you can purchase one new stocking to replace the worn one.

Social Meet Held By Lynwood Club

The Lynwood Games Club met in the home of Mrs. Frank Demjen on Lynwood Ave. with Mrs. Charles Felkey serving as co-hostess.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Jerry Cunningham, Mrs. Phillip Hines, Mrs. William Sibbick, Mrs. William Brock and Mrs. George Frank.

Others present were: Mrs. William Blanton, Mrs. Paul Helwag, Mrs. Carl Radcliff, Mrs. Roland Reinhard, Mrs. Fred J. Huber, Mrs. James Canning, Mrs. Lewis Young, Mrs. Doyle Painter, Mrs. Harry Turner, Mrs. James Grant, Mrs. Richard Quinzel and the hostesses.

Refreshments were served. Spread a thin flat sponge cake with softened ice cream; roll up, wrap in aluminum foil and freeze. Allow to stand at room temperature about an hour before slicing.

Steel Industry Gets Set For Negotiations

Management, Union Both Warming Up To Win Public Backing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—With one great labor-management struggle over today another one — potentially even greater — is beginning to take shape.

Westinghouse workers are going back to work. And Westinghouse salesmen are going out in search of business to help recoup some of the loss.

But in the basic steel industry both management and labor are warming up vocally and starting to woo public opinion for the contract negotiations that will begin shortly.

Management sees further wage increases as inflationary for the economy as a whole. The union thinks the wage scale can be raised and the steel companies still make money.

It's for Westinghouse and the Electrical Workers Union to evaluate how much was gained or lost by the bitter 156-day strike. The company reports it operated at a loss in the fourth quarter of last year, and the loss doubtless was greater in the first quarter of this year.

Products it might have shipped but didn't are estimated to total nearly 300 million dollars in billing value. Wages it could have paid but didn't are estimated to total 100 million dollars.

Evaluating orders it might have got but didn't is harder. And it will be some time yet before it can be told how successful the company will be in its sales campaign to recapture and widen markets for its products.

A strike in the steel industry could be much more costly. Mills are now operating at capacity with order backlogs ensuring production for months ahead.

The union can point to this prosperity and also to the record earnings that many steel companies reported for 1955 in support of its expected demand for higher wages and fringe benefits, including some form of lay-off pay. The demands have been estimated by various union and management sources as ranging anywhere from 32 to 49 cents an hour.

Management is already putting up its own views in rebuttal. It says that good profit margins are essential if the industry is to finance a needed expansion of its facilities. And it argues that its price hikes since the war have been caused by past wage increases.

Latest out with a warning of more inflation to come if wages go higher is United States Steel. In a report to its stockholders big steel charges there are two basic

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower didn't really begin his all-out, slam-bang campaign for election in 1952 until after the Scripps-Howard newspapers complained he was running "like a dry creek."

Perhaps Adlai Stevenson will be elected the same way—if that's possible for him—by the clubbing he just took from Sen. Estes Kefauver in the presidential primary in Minnesota.

After reflecting on this sad news, Stevenson said he will now "work harder" for the Democratic nomination. This may have been an acknowledgment he thought he had the Minnesota vote in his pocket and was just breezing in the campaign there.

He's been no ball of fire so far. Perhaps it isn't in his nature to be. The slow-talking Kefauver has no edge on him in that department; he doesn't give off sparks either.

Up to now Stevenson has looked like a rerun of himself in 1952: dignified, scholarly and mild, even milder than in 1952 when Eisenhower beat him. Kefauver has a touch of the home town boy about him, even homespun.

Whether these personality differences had any significance in the Minnesota voting cannot be said now.

Nor can it be said the difference in their tactics was significant. Where there was almost an elegance about Stevenson, whisking around Minnesota in search of votes, the more casual Kefauver only loped around shaking hands but looking for hands to shake.

It is just as possible Stevenson has worn out his welcome as a presidential candidate and voters are getting tired of his genteel approach to domestic and world issues.

Both men on Nov. 19 last year came out for "moderation" in this year's presidential campaign and they've stuck to that pretty much ever since, with Stevenson even more "moderate" than Kefauver. On most subjects they talked like twins against the Eisenhower administration.

In farming Minnesota they hit the loss of farm income wherever they went, warned of dangers overseas, criticized lack of progress on federal aid to education, accused the administration of being for big business, attacked what they called "giveaway" of natural resources, worried that the Rural Electrification Administration was being undercut, and discussed the ability of a heart attack victim like Eisenhower to handle the presidency.

But Kefauver took harder aim at farmers and organized labor and outbid Stevenson for both. While Stevenson talked of amending the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, Kefauver advocated its outright repeal.

Stevenson said he was for 90 per cent of parity support of farm prices but Kefauver proposed 100 per cent support for family-sized farms and 90 per cent for the big ones.

An appeal for sympathy—or at least an appeal for fair play—was implicit in some of Kefauver's campaign. He complained about the Minnesota political leaders' support of Stevenson.

The Minnesota Democratic-Farmer-Labor State Central Committee had endorsed Stevenson. Kefauver accused party leaders of trying to keep him out of the primary altogether.

Nurse Consultants Said Ohio's Need

CLEVELAND — The President of the Ohio Assn. of Nursing Homes, William Shirkey of Elyria, says there are too few nursing consultants hired by the state.

Shirkey told a convention of the association that the state has only six consultants for the 670 private nursing homes and 125 philanthropic nursing institutions. It is such a tremendous job for so few people that they act merely as police women instead of consultants, he said.

Sokolsky's These Days

It is unbelievable that there is not a Stalinist faction in the Presidium. Khrushchev may have to exile or kill its members before he can totally obliterate Stalinism.

In places like Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and China, the elimination of Stalinism must come as a shock to the Communists who have been drilled to accept Stalinism as part of the socialist canon. In Italy and the United States, this new development is particularly damaging.

The American Communists on orders of Stalin through Jacques Duclos humiliated and eliminated Earl Browder for taking the identical position that Khrushchev took in his famous seven-hour speech, namely, that there is more than one road for the achievement of socialism. What can the American Communists say to Browder now? How can they defend themselves except by insisting that Stalin was right and that Khrushchev is now wrong?

This situation needs to be watched closely and understood because it may turn into a world cataclysm during the next year.

Paint Makers Enthusiastic About Spring

Expansions Booked By Firms Hoping To Rocket 1956 Sales

NEW YORK (AP)—Mix paint with spring and good times and add a tubeful of chemistry. You have what the paint industry hopes will be its biggest year.

On the basis of it at least one major company (Glidden) is planning a major plant expansion (at Reading, Pa.)

Sales volume for the industry is expected to rise this year by 10 per cent to a new record of $1,667,846,400. If so, 1956 should be colorful.

There's a chance retail prices may rise, reflecting recent increases in the cost of linseed and soybean oils, some pigments, freight, labor and the hike announced today in the price of cans.

Much of the sales talk now in the paint industry is built around the unfolding marvels of science. Some are already available at your paint store — like polka dot paint, jelled paint, or colors in collapsible tubes.

Others are still in the research laboratories, being hunted down by radioactive isotopes. These by-products of an atomic pile, widely useful as tracers, are being turned into paint — in its manufacture and its application — to see what may come of it in the way of new and better spruce-up jobs.

The industry also counts on the psychological impact of a widely enlarged choice of colors on the army or determined do-it-yourselfers. You have all the way up to 1,000 choices — not to mention what a homeowner may accidentally stumble on in spite of his skill.

The National Paint, Varnish & Lacquer Assn. estimates almost 50 per cent of homeowners now are brave enough to tackle outdoor painting. Get them inside and out of sight of the neighborhood critics and 71 per cent will wield a brush or roller on interior paint jobs.

The Retail Paint and Wallpaper Distributors of America says, with the deepest disapproval, that some 30 million American homes haven't had a new coat of paint in 10 years. It also turns a critic's eye on all the several million homes built since World War II and asserts — perhaps to no one's surprise — that in its view 70 per cent could stand a new coat right now.

More color choices, easier application methods, and new effects are the things that have spurred the once-staid industry since the war.

The polka dot paint is a spray-on coating of fine droplets of various colored lacquers. The color of the most drops becomes the background and the other colors suspend in the medium appear as dots in relief.

A jelled paint, made from an alkyl polyamide resin, is said by its makers to eliminate most setting, dripping and mixing.

Paint-plus-tube color systems — which Bennett Paint & Glass Co. of Salt Lake City says it introduced in 1937 — offers a wide choice of hues and tints to the painter who squeezes the color from the metal tubes into a base paint.

Ohio State Prexy Contends Commies Part Of Conspiracy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The president of Ohio State University, declaring that "there is no longer any reasonable doubt" that Communists are a part of a conspiracy to overthrow the U. S. government, says no party member is fit to be a professor.

University President Howard L. Bevis took that stand in a sharply worded reply to a recommendation by a special committee of the American Assn. of University Professors (AAUP). The committee recommended in Washington Wednesday that the university administration be censured for firing a faculty member in a civil rights controversy. Similar recommendations were made for four other universities.

It was assumed that the committee was referring to the dismissal in April, 1952, of a physics professor, Dr. Byron T. Darling. No names were mentioned by the committee.

Dr. Darling, questioned before a congressional committee in 1952, has denied in sworn statements that he was or ever had been a Communist Party member.

The committee said that an unnamed associate professor of physics was discharged by the university Board of Trustees for "lack of candor and moral integrity" after he invoked the First and Fifth Amendments when asked by a congressional committee about alleged Communist Party activity.

A statement issued by the Ohio State Board of Trustees at the time of Dr. Darling's dismissal declared:

"If the statement that he was not a Communist were true, he had nothing to fear from anything, including an indictment for perjury."

The AAUP said, "the invocation of the Fifth Amendment by a faculty member . . . cannot be in itself a sufficient grounds for removing him."

Bevis said the AAUP committee finding "is based upon the premise . . . that dismissal of a faculty member for membership in the Communist Party taken by itself is not warranted. Such dismissal is alleged to be a violation of academic freedom."

"The Ohio State University takes issue with this premise. There is no longer any reasonable doubt that members of the Communist Party are part of a conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States, by force if necessary."

"Furthermore, no party member is free to hold or express thoughts or opinions at variance with the current party line."

"In our judgment, therefore, no party member is fit to become or to remain a professor."

The university president said also the AAUP recommendation "was made without notice, without hearing and without knowledge of many important facts."

Chinese Refugee To Stay In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed legislation to permit Dr. Peter Chou-Yuen Tchen, a refugee from Communist China, to remain in Columbus, Ohio.

A resident physician at Ohio State Tuberculosis Hospital, he was ordered deported last July on the ground that he had overstayed his visit to this country.

This was stopped by a bill granting him permanent residence rights. The measure introduced by Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) now is under consideration by the House.

Middie Soph Gets Top Nod On All-Ohio Class A Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Jerry Lucas, unbeaten Middletown's scintillating sophomore, was the stand-out choice today as The Associated Press picked its 1956 All-Ohio Class A high school basketball team.

The six-foot seven-inch star of the five-time Ohio champion Middies is surrounded by four seniors on the all-star cast, but he's the only one who'll be on display this weekend in the title tourney at Cleveland.

With Lucas on the first team are John Milhoan of Gallipolis, Larry Willey of Defiance, Gary Hornsby of Hamilton, and Akron South's sterling Jim Darrow—only one of the group to make it for the second straight time.

Of the top 15 selections, based on games through March 3 when the lose-and-out tournaments started, only two reached the state tourney. Along with Lucas, who was named captain of the first quintet and recently designated the state's No. 1 Class A star, is Cleveland East Tech's Eugene DeLoach, who won a second team berth.

DeLoach, a 6-4 senior, and an honor student to match Lucas in the schoolwork department, will battle it out with the Middie giant in Friday's semi-finals at Cleveland as the teams which identical 23-0 records meet.

Six players on the tournament teams made the honorable mention list. They were Bob Cole and

Redlegs' Big-Hit, No-Pitch Club Is Mystery Crew Of NL

TAMPA, Fla. (P)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, touted as the "dark horse" this year, figure to be the mystery club of the National League.

Boasting what may be the best hitting club in the league, the Reds again have a pitching problem and must fill gaping holes at third base and left field to be considered seriously as a contender.

Manager Birdie Tebbets acknowledges he has the best middle-of-the-line punch in the circuit in Ted Kluszewski (.314), Wally Post (.309), Gus Bell (.308) and Smokey Burgess (.301). Last year they hit 135 homers and drove in 404 runs.

But Tebbets realizes that all this power is concentrated in one group. He deplores it as "an unbalance of power." When overly optimistic well wishers mention the awesome power of the big four, Tebbets points out that the little four, Johnny Temple (.281), Roy McMillan (.268), Rocky Bridges (.286) and Charley Harmon (.253) hit only seven home runs and drove in just 133 runs among them.

Tebbetts thinks he can inject more punch in the proper places by playing Ray Jablonski at third base and Frank Robinson, a 20-year-old rookie from Columbia, S. C., in left field. Robinson not even listed on the roster has been the hitting sensation of the camp.

"If Jabbo and Robinson can make it," said Tebbets, "then we'll have an excellent chance of finishing no lower than third. If they don't then we'll have to get phenomenal pitching to finish in the first division."

Tebbetts is more optimistic about the pitching than at any time since he became manager in 1954.

Southpaw Joe Nuxhall, the club's biggest 1955 winner with 17 triumphs, figures to be the No. 1 man again. Veteran righthanders Art Fowler (11-10), Johnny Klippstein (9-10), Joe Black (6-2) and Brooks Lawrence, obtained from St. Louis, round out the starting five.

Herschel Freeman (7-4), with the best earned run average in the league last year; Hal Jeffcoat (8-6), obtained from Chicago, and Billy Kennedy, a 35-year-old lefthander purchased from Seattle, form a strong bullpen.

Don Gross (4-5), Bud Podbielan (1-2), Rudy Minarcin (5-9) and Tom Acker (11-8 at Nashville) probably will make up the secondary.

DENVER (P)—Two talented collections of collegians from the deep South and the far West challenge veteran AAU clubs in tonight's quarterfinals of the National AAU Basketball Tournament.

Needles Favored In Florida Derby

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—Needles, Florida-bred winner of the Flamingo Stakes, is a 2 to 1 favorite to capture the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park Saturday but if past events are any indication, his handlers have four colts to fear.

Lopez Eyeing His Big List Of Rookies

TUCSON, Ariz. (P)—Manager Al Lopez took a look around today at the talent trying to land berths with his Cleveland Indians and said he'd probably start the season with as many as 35 players.

"Cutting down this squad will be a problem," Lopez said. "But I wouldn't want it any other way."

Twenty players are certain of their jobs. That leaves only five openings for 25 candidates including highly regarded Sam Mele, Walter Evers, Rocky Colavito, Cal McLish, Earl Averill, Rudy Regalado, Joe Altobelli, Henry Aguirre, Dick Tomaneck and Henry Foiles.

About a dozen pitchers are competing for two vacancies.

Veterans Mike Garcia and Bob Avila showed the rookies some of the fine arts of pitching and hitting yesterday as the Indians trampled Baltimore 11-4.

Garcia worked four innings and showed some good stuff, although he was knicked for two runs in the opening frame.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our husband and father Shirley D. Lathouse who passed away on Tuesday, March 22, 1956. Our lips cannot tell you what we miss him. Our hearts cannot tell you what we miss him. In a home that is lonely today. We mourn for him in silence. No eyes can see us weep. But many a silent tear is shed. While others are asleep.

Mrs. Lathouse and Daughters

Everyone Tries To Pick King Of Ohio Cagers

Each Team In Finals Has Backers In Play Starting Tomorrow

CLEVELAND (AP) — Everyone around town was trying to figure out which two of eight teams could manufacture a two-game winning streak and capture Ohio's high school basketball championships.

But each of the eight had its backers, and the answer will not be known until Saturday.

Today the four Class A teams, survivors of a starting field of 328, and the four Class B squads, remnants of the original 724, had one-on-one practice sessions scheduled at Cleveland Arena where the tournament will be waged Friday and Saturday.

Some of the teams moved in Wednesday night, but they could not be found. Most of the coaches had reserved "hideaways" in motels or suburban hotels to keep admiring backers from bothering the boys.

Even Cleveland East Tech, one of the two unbeaten Class A squads, and Chagrin Falls of Class B, which are within a miasmic shot of the Arena, rallied around their coaches and went to hotels for the "duration."

Tickets for the Friday and Saturday night games are nonexistent, tournament manager George Kozak said today. That is when unbeaten Middletown and Cleveland East Tech, and Canton McKinley and Columbus North, meet in the Class A semi-finals and finals.

The big arena has 10,000 permanent seats, but two years ago the all-time tourney crowd of 14,038 was jammed into the place for the Class A semifinals.

Some tickets are still available for the afternoon sessions when the Class B teams tangle, although Chagrin Falls alone had sold 1,800 up to Wednesday night.

The stay-at-home fans will get a chance to hear the games via radio, with 18 stations carrying at least a portion of the play-by-play. Among the stations are those at Findlay, Lima, Cleveland, Akron, Canton, Columbus and Middletown.

WHIO-TV of Dayton will televise Friday night's Middletown-East Tech contest, and Saturday's final if the Middies survive Friday's game and go for an unprecedented sixth state title, and Coach Paul Walker's fourth.

The tourney schedule:

Friday
Class B
 1:35 p.m.—Arcanum (25-1) vs. Willshire (27-0)
 3:05 p.m.—Columbus St. Mary (23-1) vs. Chagrin Falls (21-5)
Class A
 7:35 p.m.—Canton McKinley (21-3) vs. Columbus North (19-5)

 The Class B winners meet at 2:05 p.m. Saturday for the title won a year ago by Lockland Wayne, and the Class A victors clash at 8:05 p.m. for the crown annexed in 1955 by Zanesville.

Pickaway County Leads Entire State In Accident Increases

Area Tops In Total, Property, Injury Mishaps

County Now Ranks 44th In Ohio For Number Of Crashes

Pickaway County has won the dubious honor of having one of the worst traffic accident increase records in the state of Ohio in 1955 as compared with 1954.

Figures released by the statistical division of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety reveal the following for Pickaway County:

1. First in the increase of total accidents;
2. First in the increase of injury accidents;
3. First in the increase of property damage accidents; and
4. Fourth in the increase of total injuries.

PICKAWAY COUNTY ranked 52nd in the state in 1954 when a total of 474 accidents were recorded, according to the report. This figure jumped to 681 accidents in 1955 and upped the county's ranking to 44.

The increase in total accidents figured at 30.5 percent. The closest to this was a 21 percent increase recorded by Union County, which is northwest of Franklin County.

In 1955, Pickaway County was the scene of 257 persons being injured in auto accidents. This represented a 26.8 percent jump over the previous year's total of 188.

However, this barely nosed out the same Union County, which had a 26.6 percent increase. Morgan County, just north of Athens, also had a 26.6 percent increase.

In the matter of property damage accidents, Pickaway County's 33.8 percent increase is head and shoulders above the rest; runnerup is Defiance County, in Northwest Ohio, with 27.7 percent. The local area had 274 property damage reports in 1954, with this amount jumping to 414 last year.

DURING 1955, according to the report, 457 persons were hurt in crashes in the area — an all-time record for Pickaway County. This is 25.6 percent over 1954's total of 340.

There were 15 deaths recorded in the county last year. The report shows 13 deaths in 1954, but

Ike Signs Measure To Deepen Channels

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed legislation authorizing deepening of the connecting channels in the Great Lakes west of Lake Erie at a cost of $110 million.

The project would provide a 27-foot minimum depth, sufficient for large ocean going ships, from Lake Superior to the Atlantic.

The work is in contingent upon Congress appropriating funds.

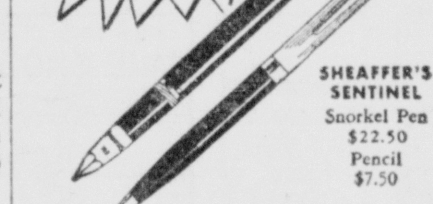

sheriff's records here show 14 for that year. The 15 deaths is also a new record for auto accident fatalities, even though the 10 fatal accidents were two below the total of 1954.

Property damage, in dollars, paradoxically was lower in 1955 as compared with the previous year, nearly $30,000 lower.

For the state, total deaths rose an average of 10 percent in 1955 over 1954; injuries were 8 percent greater; and total accidents were 12 percent more.

There were 11 Ohio counties with property damage above the million dollar mark, the report noted. There were two areas with 1955 traffic death tolls more than 100—Cuyahoga, with its large industrial area around Cleveland, and Hamilton, with the huge metropolitan area of Cincinnati.

Big Bank Continuing Search For Missing $1 Million Note

NEW YORK (AP) — Like everyone else, the big Chase Manhattan Bank has learned that it's a lot easier to lose money than find it. That goes for one dollar or a million.

Unfortunately for Chase Manhattan, it's a million. On March 6 it found out that, somehow, one of its million-dollar U. S. Treasury notes had gotten mislaid.

Needless to say, there has been quite a search going on ever since. Today a bank spokesman gave this account of developments:

"I can say it in two words: still missing."

He added: "We've been through the vault once but that doesn't mean the search is completed. We're going through it again. Also, we're exploring all possibilities as to how the note might have gotten out of the vault. However, we believe it's still in there."

"It's a big job to make the search because it means turning over many million sheets of paper—bonds and stock certificates. They have to be turned over one by one."

Treasury notes such as the missing one resemble Series E defense bonds. Banks buy them generally to make easier the handling of the vast amounts of money they possess. The notes draw small interest.

Banks are insured against loss of such items, and if the Treasury note isn't found here the bank's insurance company will have to make good the loss.

"Nobody will lose any money over it, though," said the bank spokesman. "The insurance company eventually can get its money back from the government, just as when people lose defense bonds."

The note matured last week. The bank would have to have the actual certificate to collect its interest and principal from the government.

Theoretically, the note is negotiable by anyone. As a practical matter, chances are quite remote. Considering the publicity given this one, and the fact that all fi-

Portsmouth Shoe Firm Not For Sale

PORTSMOUTH (AP) — Control of the Selby Shoe Co. will remain in Portsmouth.

Atty. Calvin Clarke, new chairman of the board, and Homer Selby, president of the firm, said Selby family holdings are not for a sale.

Sidney L. Albert, president of the Bellanca Aircraft Corp., Akron, announced last week he was seeking control of the shoe firm.

Financial institutions have been alerted, anyone who might try to cash it would find his chances poor.

Herald's Help Draws Thanks Of Heart Group

Officials of the Central Ohio Heart Association—regional heads of the annual Heart Fund Drive—issued formal thanks today for the assistance The Herald gave this year's campaign against the nation's No. 1 killer disease.

A letter signed by Jeannie James, executive secretary of the Central Ohio group, which includes the Pickaway County Heart Council, was received as follows:

"The Central Ohio Heart Association is sincerely grateful to the Circleville Ohio Herald for the editorial and newspaper space given to the work of the Association and to the reporting of the 1956 local Heart Fund Campaign."

"This support helped the committee immeasurably in surpassing last year's total."

"The members of the committee and the Board of Trustees join me in expressing to you and your staff our sincere gratitude for your splendid cooperation."
